M'CULLAGH DOESN'T LET UP.

DENCE SENT TO COL. GARDINER With a Reminder That the Resorts He Cited to Devery Are Still Running-Police Board So Informed, Too-King Colonizer

Supt. McCullagh, continuing his fight against illegal registration, yesterday sent letters both to Di-trict Attorney Gardiner and to the Police Commissioners calling their attention again to disorderly resorts specified in his recent letter to Chief Devery. With his letter to Col. Gardiner the Superintendent forwarded 107 com-44 concerning gambling houses and pool rooms, attached to each complaint. It was said at the District Attorney's office that the complaints would be taken into the police courts

The Superintendent's letter to Col. Gardiner

Which Was to Have Built Garbage Crema tories in Queens and Richmond.

Municipal Assembly and the Board of ate have concurred in authorizing the transfer of $144.649 from a total of $210,000 appropriated for garbage crematories in Queens and Richmond to the accounts of Manhattan and The Bronx to provide for new equip ment in the Department of Street Cleaning. The transfer was on the application, made last January, of the Commissioner of Street Cleaning Four crematories had been provided for in Queens and three in Richmond, each crematory to cost $50,000. The money so allowed was not used for what Commissioner Nagle states were "potent reasons." The transfer of the amount from one account to the other will obviate the necessity for a bond issue. bond issue.

The new equipment provided for includes 200 horses at $210 each; 30 bicycles at $30 each; steel carts, harness, &c. The Municipal Assembly has been asked to allow the Commissioner to purchase the goods without public letting or advertising. One report has it that a new sweeping machine with which the department has been asked to allow the department has been asked to allow the department has been asked to allow the department has been asked to be a second to be a secon and grabbed the policeman, telling her to run, which she did. William J. Scales, a negro, testified that he saw Harris in Newark after the murder and that Harris showed him wounds on his head which, he said, were due to the clubbing by Thorpe. Detective Weller testified that Harris had told him that he had stabbed the policeman in self-defence after he had been knocked down twice by Thorpe's club. There were several other witnesses who were with Harris in McBride's saloon on the corner of Eighth agenue and Fortyfirst streat just before the murder. They had seen Harris go across the street to join Policeman Thorpe and the Enoch girl. Several of them said that they had seen Harris deal a blow, but they would not swear that they had seen a weapon in his hand. Miss Alice Thorpe, the dead man's sister, and Mrs. Samuel Thorpe, his sister-in law, were in court. The case for the prosecution was practically ended.

BURNS OIL INSTEAD OF COAL.

The Tank Steamer Cowrie's Experiment Considered Eminently Successful. The British tank steamship Cowrie, which uses oil for fuel, is loading at Bayonne for a voyage to the Orient. The fuel oil is cruder, voyage to the Orient. The fuel oil is cruder, coarser and 20 per cent, cheaper than the oil she carries in her tanks. She came here from London in fifteen days, making about nine and a half knots an hour, there furnaces were designed originally to burn coal. Ten men were necessary to stoke them, now only two are needed. It is said that the oil fuel is dearer here and in Europe than coal, but the saving is in reduced labor force and decreased bunker space. In the far East, where coal is scarce, fuel oil is cheaper than coal. It is proposed to use the Cowrie and other oil carriers chiefly for service in the Orient.

Some time ago the Aldermen, apprehensive that the proposed charter amendments would W. Nelson, Mayor of Newport, and leading not receive proper consideration at the hands of the Legislative committees unless the ladder-men could appear at Albany, requested City Clerk Suily to apply for an additional $1,000 when making his yearly estimate to provide travelling allowances for the Aldermen. The City Clerk had compiled his estimate before he received the request. The Aldermen have now decided to ask the Board of Estimate and Ap-portionment for the money.

Horgan & Slattery were appointed architects for the new Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory. Gen. Butt wanted to know why the firm had been so slow about the plans for the First Battery Armory. It was explained that the provisional plans had been held up for some months by the Sinking Fund Commissioners because the debt limit had been approached. Therefore the architects didn't know whether the plans were approved or not and did not see fit to begin work.

While the critical period of their immediate wants has been in a measure mitigated, much remains to be done to place them in a position where they will be assured from actual want, and be in a measure self supporting. To this accomplishment, Miss Barton is bending all her efforts and appeals to a generous humanity to aid her in her able efforts.

The pitlable condition of these unfortunates has been made more miserable by the heavy rain of the past twenty-four hours, which has poured through their leaky and window-less tenements or flooded their tente.

A mass meeting was to have been held tonight in Central Park to denounce the methods of the Citizens' Relief Committee, but the rain prevented it. Jeans Moller, in charge of the street cleaning force, says that about $80,000 has been spent maintaining the army of men and teams engaged in removing the debris and by the end of the week the payrelis and expenses will reach nearly $100,000. LIVING APART SHE KILLS HERSELF. San Francisco Furrier's Wife Take Carbolic Acid in Her Parents' Home Here.

Mrs. Mabel Hanson, the young wife of James S. Ranson, a San Francisco furrier, from whom she was separated, committed suicide yesterday at 22 West Sixty-first street, the home of her parents, by taking a dose of carbolic acid. Charles S. Applegate, Mrs. Hanson's father, s the editor of a trade journal having an office in Fulton street.

According to her mother Mrs. Hanson had een accustomed to use valerian as a sedative. Yesterday she complained to her mother and two sisters that she was not feeling well and asked for 10 cents to buy some of the drug. She got the money and went out. About three-quarters of an hour later her mother heard a succession of shrieks from the bathroom and found her daughter on the floor in great agony.

"My mouth is burning: call a doctor quickly" cried Mrs. Hanson.

An ambulance surgeon called from Roosevelt Hospital worked over the woman for an hour and a half, but uselessly. It was then learned that instead of buying valerian she had purchased carbolic acid telling the drug clerk that it was for disinfecting purposes.

Mrs. Applegate told reporters that she knew no reason why her daughter should have taken poison. poison.
